David Littlefield Painting
Artist Profile

David grew up in a home in which the smell of linseed oil and paint permeated the atmosphere, where his father was well respected for his skills with the brush. As a student David consistently won prizes for his ability in art and as a teenager won a Royal Society of Arts scholarship. Upon completing his scholarship he moved onto a career in lithography.

In the early 1960's he left England where he was born, travelling to the other side of the world settling in Australia. He has remained here, ultimately putting down roots on the Mornington Peninsula. He believes he could not have chosen a better place to become primarily, a landscaped artist.

David has travelled extensively, absorbing the exotic and diverse of different parts of the world. A member of the Peninsula Arts Society, his works are to be found in homes and galleries in Australia and overseas. He currently exhibits in galleries throughout Victoria.
