Artist Profile

Self employed graphic designer / artist

After moving to Mt Martha 6 years ago, I began to create the ship panels using mixed media on wood. My aim is to capture a snapshot of the ships’ majestic beauty as they silently pass by; a vignette, with the sea and sky as supporting backdrops and the horizon line strong and distinct. The recycled wood adds its own random patterns and texture.

Each painting is unique, depending on the size of the reclaimed wood, and the ships that have captured my attention.
