Ralf Kempken has been cutting and spraying layered stencils for years. From portraiture, iconic Melbourne urban landscapes and modernist architecture, the stencil is used to spray and paint images in numerous variations. Collaged and layered they form a puzzle of visual pieces.

The work is intended as an emotional trigger of that collective memory of Melbourne.